

quences that are extremely painful. Nor again is there anyone who loves or pursues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasionally circumstances occur in which toil and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, which of us ever undertakes laborious physical exercise, except to obtain some advantage from it? But who has any right to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasure?"

"But I must explain to you how all this mistaken idea of denouncing pleasure and praising pain was born and I will give you a complete account of the system, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. No one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but because those who do not know how to pursue pleasure rationally encounter consequences that are extremely painful. Nor again is there anyone who loves or pursues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasionally circumstances occur in which toil and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, which of us ever undertakes laborious physical exercise, except to obtain some advantage from it? But who has any right to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasure?"

"But I must explain to you how all this mistaken idea of denouncing pleasure and praising pain was born and I will give you a complete account of the system, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. No one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but because those who do not know how to pursue pleasure rationally encounter consequences that are extremely painful. Nor again is there anyone who loves or pursues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasionally circumstances occur in which toil and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, which of us ever undertakes laborious physical exercise, except to obtain some advantage from it? But who has any right to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasure?"

"But I must explain to you how all this mistaken idea of denouncing pleasure and praising pain was born and I will give you a complete account of the system, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. No one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but because those who do not know how to pursue pleasure rationally encounter consequences that are extremely painful. Nor again is there anyone who loves or pursues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasionally circumstances occur in which toil and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, which of us ever undertakes laborious physical exercise, except to obtain some advantage from it? But who has any right to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasure?"

"But I must explain to you how all this mistaken idea of denouncing pleasure and praising pain was born and I will give you a complete account of the system, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. No one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but because those who do not know how to pursue pleasure rationally encounter consequences that are extremely painful. Nor again is there anyone who loves or pursues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasionally circumstances occur in which toil and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, which of us ever undertakes laborious physical exercise, except to obtain some advantage from it? But who has any right to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasure?"

"But I must explain to you how all this mistaken idea of denouncing pleasure and praising pain was born and I will give you a complete account of the system, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. No one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but because those who do not know how to pursue pleasure rationally encounter consequences that are extremely painful. Nor again is there anyone who loves or pursues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasionally circumstances occur in which toil and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, which of us ever undertakes laborious physical exercise, except to obtain some advantage from it? But who has any right to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasure?"

ng consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasure?""But I must explain to you how all t his mistaken idea of denouncing pleasure and praising pain was born and I will give you a complete account of the s ystem, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. N o one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but because those who do not know how to pu rsue pleasure rationally encounter consequences that are extremely painful. Nor again is there anyone who loves or pu rsues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasionally circumstances occur in which to il and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, which of us ever undertakes laborious ph ysical exercise, except to obtain some advantage from it? But who has any right to find fault with a man who choose s to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasur e?""But I must explain to you how all this mistaken idea of denouncing pleasure and praising pain was born and I wi ll give you a complete account of the system, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. No one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but beca use those who do not know how to pursue pleasure rationally encounter consequences that are extremely painful. No r again is there anyone who loves or pursues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasio nally circumstances occur in which toil and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, whi ch of us ever undertakes laborious physical exercise, except to obtain some advantage from it? But who has any righ t to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a p ain that produces no resultant pleasure?""But I must explain to you how all this mistaken idea of denouncing pleasur e and praising pain was born and I will give you a complete account of the system, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. No one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but because those who do not know how to pursue pleasure rationally encounter conse quences that are extremely painful. Nor again is there anyone who loves or pursues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasionally circumstances occur in which toil and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, which of us ever undertakes laborious physical exercise, except to obtain some a dvantage from it? But who has any right to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoyi ng consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasure?""But I must explain to you how all t his mistaken idea of denouncing pleasure and praising pain was born and I will give you a complete account of the s ystem, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. N o one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but because those who do not know how to pu rsue pleasure rationally encounter consequences that are extremely painful. Nor again is there anyone who loves or pu rsues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasionally circumstances occur in which to il and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, which of us ever undertakes laborious ph ysical exercise, except to obtain some advantage from it? But who has any right to find fault with a man who choose s to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasur e?""But I must explain to you how all this mistaken idea of denouncing pleasure and praising pain was born and I wi ll give you a complete account of the system, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. No one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but beca use those who do not know how to pursue pleasure rationally encounter consequences that are extremely painful. No r again is there anyone who loves or pursues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasio nally circumstances occur in which toil and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, whi ch of us ever undertakes laborious physical exercise, except to obtain some advantage from it? But who has any righ t to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a p ain that produces no resultant pleasure?""But I must explain to you how all this mistaken idea of denouncing pleasur e and praising pain was born and I will give you a complete account of the system, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. No one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but because those who do not know how to pursue pleasure rationally encounter conse quences that are extremely painful. Nor again is there anyone who loves or pursues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasionally circumstances occur in which toil and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, which of us ever undertakes laborious physical exercise, except to obtain some a dvantage from it? But who has any right to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoyi ng consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasure?""But I must explain to you how all t his mistaken idea of denouncing pleasure and praising pain was born and I will give you a complete account of the s ystem, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. N o one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but because those who do not know how to pu t to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasure?" "But I must explain to you how all this mistaken idea of denouncing pleasure and praising pain was born and I will give you a complete account of the system, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. No one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but because those who do not know how to pursue pleasure rationally encounter consequences that are extremely painful. Nor again is there anyone who loves or pursues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasionally circumstances occur in which toil and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, which of us ever undertakes laborious physical exercise, except to obtain some advantage from it? But who has any right to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasure?" "But I must explain to you how all this mistaken idea of denouncing pleasure and praising pain was born and I will give you a complete account of the system, and expound the actual teachings of the great explorer of the truth, the master-builder of human happiness. No one rejects, dislikes, or avoids pleasure itself, because it is pleasure, but because those who do not know how to pursue pleasure rationally encounter consequences that are extremely painful. Nor again is there anyone who loves or pursues or desires to obtain pain of itself, because it is pain, but because occasionally circumstances occur in which toil and pain can procure him some great pleasure. To take a trivial example, which of us ever undertakes laborious physical exercise, except to obtain some advantage from it? But who has any right to find fault with a man who chooses to enjoy a pleasure that has no annoying consequences, or one who avoids a pain that produces no resultant pleasure?"